

Clarity

Number 62

November 2009

Journal of the international association promoting plain legal language

Guest editor for this issue:
Neil James

Editor in chief:
Julie Clement

In this issue

The Hon. Nathan Rees, MP Opening address	5
Dr. Robert Eagleson Ensnaring perceptions on communication: Underlying obstacles to lawyers writing plainly	9
Wessel Visser The credit crisis has its roots in Main Street, not Wall Street	14
William Lutz Plain language and financial transparency: What you don't understand can cost (or make) you money	16
Lynda Harris Making the business case for plain English	19
Ernest Gowers (Ann Scott) Plain words	22
Ben Piper Righting the wrongs of rewriting	30
Pam Peters Keynote address International trends in English style and usage	34
Candice Burt Laws set the framework for plain language in South Africa	41
Angela Colter Assessing the usability of credit card disclosures	46
Caroline Lindberg Developing plain language multilingual information about the law	53
The Hon. Michael Kirby AC CMG Closing address Plain concord: Clarity's ten commandments	58
Clarity and general news
From the editor	13
Contributing to the journal	15
Call for special papers	15
How to join Clarity	18
Thanks to Richard Woof	18
Coming conferences	21
Phil Knight retires from Clarity committee	33
Member news	65
Message from the President	66
Members by country	67